Barring Landscapes Gansu

加拿大资助中国乡村女学生教育协会成立于2005年。七年来由于我们的努力和加拿大、香港慈善人士的支持，285名来自甘肃省农村的贫困女青年接受了大学教育。目前有170名受资助的大学生分别在中国三十几个城市的九十几所大学就读。自2009年以来有116名受资助的女大学生顺利获得了本科文凭。

鉴于中国农村女性的教育被忽略的历史事实，我们把强调和支持女性教育作为努力的目标。我们深信一个女人受了教育，她的后代也会受教育。

七年来我去了甘肃十次，除了亲自了解每个学生的情况，把资助金交到她们手中外，我还到过部分她们所就读的大学看望她们，和学生们保持书信联系。我从经验中体会到关心她们的成长是和经济上资助她们同样重要的。受资助的学生们都在学业上有很好的成绩，并参与各种社会公益活动。更可赞赏的是有不少受助学生利用假期在她们家乡支教，把受教育的重要性传播给其他农村的孩子和家长。

毕业中有15%左右获得奖学金继续深造；25%左右回到家乡从事教师和政府公务员等工作；更多的毕业生在全国各地就业；她们都把孝敬父母和帮助弟妹受教育当成自己的责任。让我们骄傲的是几位收入稳定的毕业生向我们回赠，她们用自己的力量帮助更多的贫困女青年受大学教育。

2012年我们将开始资助贫困女高中生的项目，并计划把资助范围推广到甘肃省以外的其它贫困地区。我衷心希望有更多慈善人士和企业支持我们的事业，使更多的中国农村女青年受教育，从而彻底改变贫困状态。

Educated Women Have Educated Children

A reunion in Lanzhou, Gansu – Tien Ching and a group of 2011 graduates

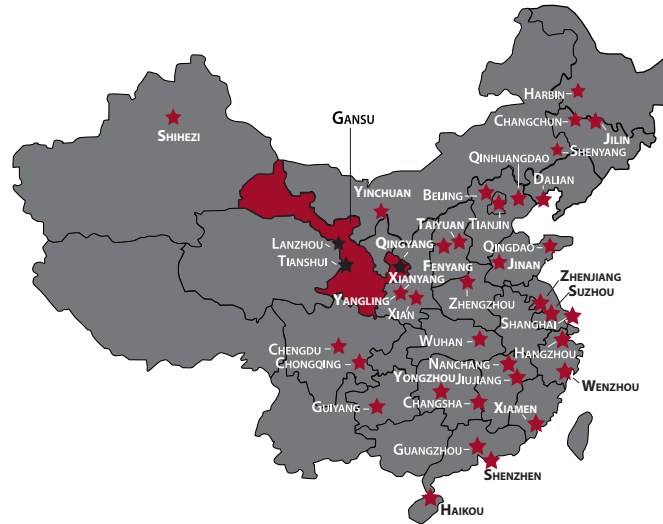

Under the sponsorship of EGRC, a total of 286 young women from impoverished rural regions of Gansu Province – the poorest province in North-west China have received university education. Currently 170 students are studying in 96 different universities in China; and 116 students have graduated since 2009.

Among the graduates, about 15% are in Master's programs; 25% have returned to Gansu to work. The majority of the graduates are working in various professional industries in cities and townships throughout China. They are all taking on the responsibilities of looking after their families and even their siblings education. A few of the successful graduates have donated money back to EGRC.

I travel to Gansu every summer to lead the selection process for the applicants. This process includes home visiting and personal interview of each applicant. On the same trip I also meet all the students who are under our sponsorship to find out how they did in the previous school year, to view their school transcripts. At the end of my trip I transfer the funds to each student's personal bank account. I keep regular correspondence with most of them. I have come to realize that caring for them is as equally important as the financial aid. Educating women means educating future generations; it goes beyond race and nationality. I hope the success we have achieved will inspire many more to join us in this life - changing endeavor.

FACTS...IN CHINA,

- Top 10% of the wealthy population owns 45% of the national wealth; bottom 10% of the population owns 1% of the national wealth
- Gansu Province has the highest poverty rate and illiteracy rate
- One man moves one ton of concrete and earns $1.00
- One year university cost is equivalent to one Gansu rural family's annual income
- 60% of the middle school graduates are not able to attend high school in rural Gansu
- Only 7.52% of the total population in Gansu has post secondary education

THE OBJECTIVES

1. Sponsor female students from rural regions with their four year undergraduate studies in Chinese Universities.
2. Sponsor female high school (grade 10 to 12) students with their three year studies in rural region high schools.
3. Assist EGRC sponsored students with BA diplomas to enroll in post graduate programs offered by Canadian universities.

NEW PROJECT IN 2012 – HIGH SCHOOL SPONSORSHIP PROGRAM

A group of grade 8 and 9 students in Huining County – without financial help most of them are not able to attend high school

In rural regions girls are often forced to quit school at age 15 or 16 to support the family and their male sibling's education; or marry early. Many peasants went to the cities in East China to find work and left their children alone or with aging grandparents. Because of the distance between the villages and the schools, many rural middle school and high school students are boarding. They can afford only one hot meal a day.
